

1922 EXHIBIT BY BREEDERS IS ASSURED

Success of County Show of Pure Bred Stock Arouses Enthusiasm—Changes Discussed Next Monday.

MANY RECEIVE AWARDS

That the two day show at Jackson park will be only the first of a series of annual exhibits, or county fairs, which will be held hereafter is definitely assured, according to the sentiment of many Wayne county stock breeders who are members of the breeders' association.

Full satisfaction with the results of the show was shown by all concerned, with some surprise expressed occasionally at the number of exhibits that were brought out in the less favored classes.

Expectation of a much larger number of exhibits for next year's show was expressed by many of the breeders who pointed out the short time in which this show had been worked up, and the inadequate premiums in some of the classes.

With more generous prizes offered for cattle particularly, it is thought many more entries can be brought out and it is known that there is much meritorious stock in Wayne county that was not shown, while there was only one exhibitor from outside the county at this show.

To Consider Changes. Changes looking to enlarging the entries and provisions for the exhibits and expeditions will be discussed at a meeting of the breeders' association which has been called for Monday night at the town hall of Centerville.

Plans for another show will be discussed at this time. It is probable that a four day show will be arranged next year.

An attendance of 3,000 on Thursday was estimated by those who visited the grounds from Richmond that day. Among Thursday visitors also was Senator New's party, which stopped at the park on the way to Richmond from Cambridge City. The senator spent some time on the grounds viewing the exhibits and meeting citizens of the county.

Sell Stock on Ground. A solicitor was on the grounds Thursday, taking advantage of the enthusiasm and of the advertising value of the stock show to dispose of stock in the association, and reported very good luck in signing subscriptions.

It is intended to erect permanent buildings before next year, to house all exhibits, the buildings being designed for the peculiar conditions to be found in the grounds.

The first plans of one large pavilion with adjoining barns will probably have to be abandoned and individual buildings erected instead.

Much interest was shown in the pig club, the member's pigs being exhibited in competition for prizes announced by the association, and additional prizes offered by two of the breed associations, and also being entered in the classes provided for pigs three to six months of age, in which they were shown.

The record books were turned in on the last day and will be judged and awards announced on Saturday. These records are complete stories of each pig, from the day it was given out, until the show awards were given. Records show feeds, weights at regular intervals, and all other items of care.

Pig Club Premiums. There were classes for each breed in the pig club, making four classes in which premiums were awarded, with an additional class for boars. Premium winners were as follows:

Spotted Poland Chinas—First, Frank Stronk, Fountain City; second, Bertie Wilson, Connersville; third, Mary Martin, Fountain City.

Big Type Poland Chinas—First, Emerson Thurston, Fountain City; second, Idris Hinshaw; third, Donald McKinney.

Duroc Jersey—First, Leonard Duke, Richmond; second, Horace Kaele, Green's Fork; third, Howard Kerlin, Cambridge City; fourth, Robert Roth- ernel, Fountain City; fifth, Marjorie Funk, Richmond.

Chester White—First, Robert Ranc, Centerville; second, Anna Wisler, Milton; third, Verda Wissler, Milton.

Poland China boars—First, Mary Davis, Centerville; second, Donald Davis, Centerville; third, Elmer Gibson, Cambridge City.

Additional Prizes. Besides the silver cups offered by the Palladium, and the cash prizes announced in the premium list, additional prizes were offered by the Duroc and the Poland China breeders' associations for winners in the respective breeds.

Prizes for the Poland China winners were $10, $7.50 and $5 for the gilts, and $7, $5 and $3 for the boars. The Duroc association offered $10, $8, $6, $4 and $2 for the first five places, with another dollar for each of the exhibitors regardless of their placing. With a dollar for everyone of the other exhibitors who did not win placing.

Many premiums were taken by pig club members also in the open classes of the swine show proper, in which the children showed against older breeders, in many cases against their own parents.

All pigs grown by pig club members were eligible to be entered in the classes for pigs three months of age to six months in each breed.

In this class in the Poland Chinas, first was taken by Emerson Thurston and second by Idris Hinshaw both of Fountain City and both pig club members.

In the Duroc Jersey breed, first in the junior gilt class went to Leonard

SUCCEED IN ATTEMPT TO MAKE GUARDSMEN ARMY REINFORCEMENT

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Substantial progress is being made by the army general staff, acting in co-operation with the states' executives in developing the national guard along lines of the new organic law, designed by congress to make that body the first reinforcement of the regular army in time of war.

The department up to Sept. 1, had reorganized and given federal recognition to National Guard units aggregating 124,000 men, an increase of 46,000, approximately since January 1. The authorized strength also has been increased in the same period from 208,155 to 225,000.

The national guard divisional units, or their substitute units, which participated in the war have been reconstituted and three additional divisions have been organized.

Basic Plan. The basic plan for reorganizing the guard, adopted by the general staff provides for the creation of 18 divisions and a small proportion of corps and army troops, so that when combined with the regular army, both will be able to furnish on mobilization essential combat elements of three field armies.

The organization of these 18 divisions was reported recently as averaging 66 per cent of completion. The 27th was nearest the top with 92 per cent and the 36th the most backward in reorganizing its units with 25 per cent.

While the procuring of National Guard officers is left largely in the hands of the states in peace time, the war department keeps a check on commissioned personnel. In the last six months 1,566 officers have been given federal recognition, bringing the total to 6,128.

END REVISION OF HOUSE TAX BILL IN SENATE

Changes Are Expected to Turn Out Measure Designed to Boost Return More than $100,000,000.

WILL REBUFF SMOOT

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Revision of the house tax bill was to be completed today by the senate finance committee, which was expected to turn out a measure designed to raise approximately $100,000,000 more this fiscal year than would have been raised under the bill as passed by the house nearly a month ago.

With nearly two score additional amendments yet to be acted upon the committee had a very busy day. Pending changes included the treatment of personal service corporations and a reduction of the rate in the income tax brackets. Important administrative features also remained to be acted upon.

To Reject Smoot Plan. After it rejects finally on the bill the committee is expected to reject a substitute to be offered by Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, and embodying a manufacturer's tax on finished articles. Senator Calder, Republican, New York, also planned to offer his proposal to tax 2.75 per cent.

Treasury experts have yet to complete their calculations as to the additional revenue which will be received through the changes thus far agreed upon, but roughly it was estimated that for this fiscal year the bill would yield nearly $345,000,000, or almost as much as the present law.

This was the second close call the prince had during the past fortnight. While at Uzumbek a bold attempt to capture him was made by Turkish irregulars, who apparently planned to make the whole general staff prisoners. The attack was frustrated, however, by machine gun and rifle fire.

Prince George has joined his father, King Constantine, here and they are living in private Turkish villas outside the town. He had planned to represent the Greek royal family at the Rumanian coronation ceremonies to be held on Sept. 24, but his duties with the army prevent his going to Transylvania, where the ceremony will take place.

There was little interest taken in today's session, however, as it was reported that questions already elaborately discussed would be taken up. It was hoped that the debate would be completed today, so that reports from committees would be in order.

The political committee decided yesterday to approve of the admission of Latvia and Estonia to the league. The application of Lithuania is being held in abeyance until after a report is submitted as to the dispute between that country and Poland relative to Vilna. Hungary's application will be considered next Friday.

Efforts were being made today to speed up the work of the assembly which promises to remain in session over into October.

GREEK CROWN PRINCE NARROWLY ESCAPES CAPTURE BY TURKS

BRUSA, Asia Minor, Sept. 16.—Prince George of Greece narrowly escaped capture by a band of mounted Turkish irregulars while enroute to this city from the battle front early this week.

BRITISH SHIP ARRIVES WITH BALLOON DEAD

Dauntless Brings Bodies of 16 Officers and Men of American Army Lost in ZR-2 Disaster.

WAITS FOR HIGH TIDE

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The British cruiser Dauntless, bringing home the bodies of the 16 officers and men of the American navy who lost their lives in the ZR-2 disaster, arrived off Sandy Hook today, escorted by American war craft.

She was expected to wait outside the harbor until afternoon and then at high tide to come to the navy yard.

The Dauntless was conveyed by American battleships, destroyers and aircraft and marked as a funeral ship by the half masted colors.

The Dauntless was to be met far at sea early this morning by the American fleet, which put out from the summer naval base at Newport, R. I. With an American destroyer marking the way, the Dauntless followed by the other American vessels and with the seaplanes flying over, was to pass up Arbore channel to the New York navy yard past forts which was to thunder a salute.

A clear right of way was to be given the funeral ship by all passing vessels. Ships at anchor, ferry boats and other harbor craft were to dip their colors, while their crews manned the decks at attention.

The usual stop at quarantine will be dispensed with and police patrol boats and coast guard cutters have been ordered to clear the passage up past Governor's Island, around Battery Point, and into East River into the entrance of the yard.

The cruiser will find awaiting it a special guard of honor made up of marines and bluejackets, recruited mainly from the new dreadnought Maryland, sent here for the memorial services of the navy's dead. Officers from the French light cruiser Ville D'Ys and the Brazilian battleship Minas Geraes, now in port, would be present.

As soon as the Dauntless makes fast the bodies will be removed to a temporary chapel where they will rest until tomorrow when full honors will be given the dead airmen.

Officials to Take Part

A memorial service in which high officials of the federal, state and municipal governments will have a part has been arranged—the services to be shared by as many citizens as can be accommodated in the yard's enclosure.

At a near date one of the bodies, that of Lieut. Commander Emory W. Coll, will again be taken to sea, this time on an American warship and somewhere off the coast will be committed to the deep in accordance with his wishes.

The bodies brought home today include all but one of the Americans who were on the ill-fated dirigible when she was destroyed. The exception is Rigger N. O. Walker, who escaped with his life but now is in a British hospital. The others were:

Commander Louis H. Maxfield, of St. Paul, Minn.; Lieut. Commander Valentine M. Pieg, Alexandria, Va.; Lieut. Commander Emory Coll, Westboro, Mass.; Lieut. Charles C. The Belfast correspondent of the Press association, says the Irish News of this city, prints a message from a well informed Dublin source to the effect that the government contemplates an early re-assembly of the British parliament.

This step would be taken, it is said, with the view to declaring a general election on this a new government might be formed which would be invested with the right to formulate domestic policies and appoint delegates to the conference on limitation of armaments to be held in Washington.

"In this event," the correspondent adds, "the masses of the Irish people may get an opportunity of giving a considered verdict on issues most vitally affecting their own country."

IRISH STATUS TODAY SAME AS JULY 14

Relations Between England and Ireland Stand as They Did Before De Valera Came to London.

CANCELS CONFERENCE

(By Associated Press) LONDON, Sept. 16.—Relations between England and Ireland today stood as they did before Eamon De Valera came to London on July 14 to discuss with Prime Minister Lloyd George, a possible basis for ending the Irish controversy.

The Sinn Fein leader yesterday made public his move to the prime minister affirming his stand that Irish Republican plenipotentiaries could enter a conference only as delegates of an independent power and Mr. Lloyd George quickly announced the cancellation of his invitation of Irish leaders to a parley at Inverness.

It was made plain by the prime minister that he could not meet Sinn Fein delegates if the claim of Irish independence and sovereignty were insisted upon, but he did not close the door to further exchanges with the republicans.

Lloyd George indisposed. Mr. Lloyd George is indisposed, and is confined to his rooms at Carlisle, Scotland, where he has been spending a vacation and it is expected here that members of the British cabinet will confer with him before the government takes further steps.

When the cabinet met at Inverness on Sept. 8, a committee was appointed to deal with any situation which might develop as a result of exchanges with Dublin.

It consisted of Mr. Lloyd George, Austen Chamberlain, Earl Curzon, Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, Winston Churchill, Edward Short, Robert Munro, Lord Birkenhead, Sir Hamar Greenwood, and Sir Robert Stevenson Home.

These ministers left Inverness for various parts of Scotland and England immediately after the Inverness meeting and it would take several days to gather them for a conference on the present crisis.
